Plagiarism Policy	The instructor of this class takes the issue of academic honesty very seriously. All students' homework/assessments should be his/her own work alone. No outside help whatsoever is permitted beyond those specified by the instructor. If a student is unsure whether something constitutes a breach or not, it is his/her responsibility to consult with the instructor before submitting the assessment. All breaches of the policy, regardless of the circumstances, will be addressed according to university policies. Please make sure to familiarize yourself with academic honesty policies in iCLA students' guidebook before the first assessment. The use of artificial intelligence (AI) tools without proper attribution can be considered a form of plagiarism. Students must provide a description of usage of ChatGPT or any generative AI tools, what they did, and the date accessed. Inappropriate usage of ChatGPT or other generative AI tools will be considered academic misconduct.
Other Additional Notes	Details of assessment will be announced and confirmed in the first class of the semester. This course requires students' active participation in every class (e.g. active participation in discussion, speaking in Japanese in class). Please note that missing 1/3 of class meetings disqualifies you from taking the final examination and receiving credits for this course. Please refer to iCLA Students Handbook for the attendance policy. Students are required to submit all prescribed work and to maintain at least 60% performance in each type of assessment described above. Students who did not submit homework/quizzes/compositions and/or who did not perform well in the lesson tests and the final examination will not receive credits for this course.
