Course Description	The Seminar is a requirement for graduation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· It counts as 1 credit towards fulfilling the 124-credit requirement.</li> <li>· The Seminar must be taken a semester prior to the GRP if all requirements are met.</li> <li>· If taking the Seminar in the same semester as the GRP, refer to the GRP syllabus for submission details.</li> <li>· Permission to take GRP and Seminar at the same time is required.</li> </ul> [IMPORTANT] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· The CLA+ test is an important part of the seminar and its score counts for 20% of your final grade. The test is designed to evaluate your critical thinking, analytical reasoning, problem-solving, and written communication skills. Its implementation in the Seminar reflects the importance of these skills for academic success and beyond. By taking the test, you will receive an objective measure of these skills and identify areas for improvement in earning outcomes. The CLA+ test aligns with the diploma policy of iCLA and is an essential component of your academic journey.</li> <li>· Taking the CLA+ test is a requirement in order to earn credits for the Seminar. It is important to note that the failure to take the CLA+ test will result in a Fail grade for the seminar.</li> </ul>
Class plan based on course evaluation from previous academic year	The Seminar should provide an integrative experience that combines different academic skills and topics learned in various classes. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· If, due to unavoidable reasons such as study abroad or non-completion of necessary Seminar requirements, a student needs to register for both the Seminar and the GRP in the same semester (i.e., semester 8), they should discuss it with their advisor and submit a proposal in the previous semester (i.e., semester 7) before the registration deadline, outlining how they plan to complete both projects. A committee comprising of the advisor, the director of Liberal Arts, and the Associate Dean will assess the proposal and decide whether to grant permission.</li> </ul> For example, if a student must take the Seminar and GRP in the fall semester of a given year, the Seminar work (GRP draft proposal and annotated bibliography) should be completed by the end of the spring semester of the same year, ready to be submitted at the end of Week 1 of the subsequent fall
Course related to the instructor's practical experience (Summary of experience)	None

Learning Goals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· Think critically, investigate deeply, and develop habits of independent study and inquiry to develop a comprehensive understanding of the research subject.</li> <li>· Develop creative and innovative approaches to problem-solving by applying knowledge and skills from different fields and disciplines to generate new insights and solutions.</li> <li>· Value collaboration and discussion in research to advance knowledge of the chosen subject.</li> <li>· Refine communication skills by writing reports and delivering oral presentations that effectively communicate research findings and arguments.</li> <li>· Apply ethical principles and practices throughout the research process, including research design, methodology, data collection, and analysis, to ensure the protection of human subjects, privacy, and confidentiality, and to promote the integrity and credibility of the research.</li> </ul>
