Course Description	This course explores the cultural and historical aspects of Mt. Fuji. When Mt. Fuji was registered as a World Cultural Heritage in 2013, 25 properties were listed as its component parts. The component parts include worship sites, Sengen Jinjya shrines, "Oshi" lodging houses, historical ascending routes, lava tree molds, and the Five Lakes. The students will visit some of the component parts in the field study trips (3 times total, in April, May and July). The students are expected to read the designated reading materials. In the 3 day workshop trips, students will take a bus each time, departing from the iCLA building. The students will have to take a test at the end of the first field study trip, and the students are required to write reports based on the contents studied during the 3 field study trips.
Class plan based on course evaluation from previous academic year	Last year, we were able to conduct all of the 3 field study trips, without any accidents and major troubles in spite of the COVID.
Course related to the instructor's practical experience (Summary of experience)	N/A
Learning Goals	(1) gain knowledge about history and culture pertaining to Mt. Fuji. (2) identify the meaning and significance of the properties and sites listed in the World Cultural Heritage. (3) know the spiritual and religious activities of the historical Fuji-ko groups. (4) appreciate the beauty and greatness of Mt. Fuji as the most celebrated mountain in Japan.
